BIOGRAPHY

Hunter K. Smith is based in Western Australia. She was born in Dublin to Irish parents and has also lived in Dublin and Sydney. She became addicted to travelling in years past and walked the sights of Ireland, Europe, the Middle East, Africa, America, Canada, Indonesia, Australia and NZ, immersing her in amazing cultures, unforgettable new worlds stretching her brain to capacity.

She worked in the legal field for 20+ years enjoying the evidence base of barristers, and how they came up with clever questions and answers.

Then one day after another, disaster struck. Having suffered years of ill-health, seven miscarriages, chronic skin cancer, and a host of other ailments, she decided to scientifically investigate the foods and drinks that were slowly killing her. Guess what, after 15 years of scientific research she found the easy answers and you can too. A Show and Tell like no other at www.hunterksmith.com

(reviews of book are on website and THREE 5 STAR REVIEWS ARE ON

Making sure her horses NEVER had vet fees was her first clear success by cleansing their guts with plants and secrets. Secondly and a few years afterwards, her husband had ZERO side effects from massive doses of chemo, and her daughter has not taken medication for severe asthma since 2015.

Hunter's own skin cancer dramatically decreased, all done through inexpensive food, drinks and nutrients - by accident saving the family a fortune.

Her first ground-breaking book sharing her knowledge is based on true events, backed by science and written in mad fiction where a reader can easily jump into the story line.

The answers were here all along...

PRESENT AND FUTURE VISION
